Summary

Builds Websites / applications over 10 years.

Provides full service from the concept stage to the construction and development stage and everything that needs to accompany the customer.

Always looking to learn more.
I do not compromise on mediocrity.
Loves the field of development, addicted to code and can sit for hours to feel the unending satisfaction.

From a young age (14 years old) I entered the world of code development by chance, and fell in love.

Ready for any challenge (and looking for it).
